Message from the Head teacher:

Last week we officially opened the new building which was well attended by members of the Trust, the local community and those who had been involved with the design and building. I am very proud of class 4SS who sang 'This is Me' as part of the opening ceremony, and Year 6 pupils did a wonderful job of showing guests around. Parents of Year 5 and 6 have also had the opportunity to visit the building and on Monday, Year 5 will move into their new classrooms.

We also celebrated World Book Day this week and all the children looked fantastic in their costumes. We awarded a £10 book voucher to the most creative costume in Key Stage 1 and 2. These went to a child in Year 5 who made a fantastic boat out of cardboard, and a child in Reception who had come as Super Potato made out of papier mache. World book day aims to encourage a love of reading and parents and carers can help with this by reading with their child at home every day.

Finally, today is International Women's Day, a day when we celebrate the achievements of women. Did you know that the first ever female physics professor in the UK was Daphne Jackson who came from Peterborough?
